I've just learned, with great sadness, of Mrs. Nikaido's passing. She was my journalism teacher at Kalani and advisor for the school paper when I was its editor. She was also a childhood friend of my aunt Frances (Mainkey) back on Maui. I've thought of her often over the years and will always remember her infectious energy and brilliant smile.

I was a little brat growing up in Haiku Maui and being a next door neighbor to the Baldovi family. I have only the best of memories of those times.

Aloha, My mother is Francis "Mainkey" Seno Simon from Haiku, your mother was a childhood friend of her and our family still lives in the property next to your grand mother on Hamana place behind Kawaharada bakery in Haiku. I just wanted to share my thought and prays with you, as I know your mother attending my mothers funeral and would always stay in touch with her. My aunty Rosaria Seno is aware too. The Seno Ohana blesses you folks.

That's what I remember you by as being called Tinny. I was your next door neighbor Lizares family. You would playfully irritate me as a kid. I used to be called *Johnny boy. I still remember your family. Great memories 🙏

Thank you for your kinds words regarding my sister Jane. I do remember your Mom, Francis and the rest of the Seno family. I use to be a "playmate" to Salvador during our younger years until they moved to Honolulu. Again, thank you so much.. Aloha, Sylvester(Tinny) Baldovi

Her hair color is different but her smile is just as beautiful. I will always remember Mrs. Nikaido with that bright wide smile and twinkle in her eyes. She was the yearbook advisor and I was a staff photographer my sophomore year. Her encouragement and matter-of-fact confidence in me helped me to carry out my duties as head photographer (a girl!) for the next two years. I now realize how important those years were in shaping the adult I became. My life is so much richer for having known her...thank you Mrs. Nikaido! You live on in my heart. Leilani Fitzgerald lit a candle in honor of Jane.

Mrs. Nikaido was my yearbook teacher when I was in high school in the 1980s. What a wonderful woman! She was open, energetic, generous and kind hearted. I could go on. She has left a legacy that will live on through the many students whose lives she touched. My condolences to her family. Leilani Catbagan Fitzgerald
