Ken and Eddy were special friends in mine and my family's lives. They were godparents to my daughter, who used to play with their daughter Kathy regularly. We had lost contact over the years as our respective careers took us in different directions, but our love for them never waned. Ken and I worked together at Pearl Harbor and owned a boat together back in the 1970s. Many a Saturday, Eddy would pack us a lunch and send us out fishing. I am sorry to have discovered both Eddy's and Ken's passing so late, but the pain is nevertheless great. God bless their loved ones.
